Rare opportunity for a hungry Temporary Consultant to join a small boutique agency specializing in recruiting support staff into the creative industries. My client have a fantastic reputation, so can offer you a hot desk with clients and jobs to work on from day one! With a competitive basic salary along with a generous uncapped commission structure of 10% of all your billings once you have passed the £3k threshold, this company have a lot to offer and are looking for consultants who can adhere to their high standards and belief in a quality service. The right person cannot fail to increase their earning potential here with a realistic OTE in year one of £60k rising to £100k after year 3.

Based in trendy West End offices with a smart casual dress code, this is an ideal working environment for any consultant fed up with the corporate scene. With a current workforce of 5 this company have a 'family' feel and often have lunches and days out together. Candidate ownership encourages the team environment and splits are available for all consultants to make as much money as possible.

This is a new role due to expansion, but my client is so busy you will be given great jobs to work on from the start. There is a huge database of untapped business for you to attack in addition to this and you will be supported by the owners of the business who have massive industry knowledge, without being micro-managed. This agency pride themselves on their standards and are looking for like-minded people.

You will have 1-2 years' experience as a Temporary Recruitment Consultant specializing in the supply of Secretarial and Support staff, although this can be from any industry. You will be a self-motivated and driven consultant who loves business development and isn't afraid to get out there and win new clients, as well as being capable of filling existing jobs.

A sense of urgency is essential for this role as the market is competitive, although this agency have many exclusive clients who you will be able to take advantage of. You must have first rate communication skills, with the ability to write well due to the industry you will be working with.

In such a small working environment, attitude and accountability are the key to success here – there is nowhere to hide in an office of 5!

Having recently moved into bigger offices, my client are at the beginning of their expansion plan, so there is definitely room for progression into management for the right candidate and the owners, who are very much involved on a day to day basis, belief in recognizing performance and incentivizing accordingly.
