Temporary Consultant - Secretarial into Professional and Financial Services - City of London - £21-28k + competitive uncapped commission

Exciting opportunity for an experienced Temporary Consultant to join a small privately owned recruitment agency based in plush offices in the City of London. Joining a team of 5 permanent consultants you will have free reign for all temporary business, recruiting Secretarial and Office Support staff into a range of industries, although particularly Financial and Professional Services. You will inherit a warm desk which is currently billing around £4k a month and will not have any restrictions as to the direction you are looking to take your business.

This is a fantastic opportunity to join a company with a real family-feel and an excellent reputation. You will be given the autonomy to grow your desk and must have experience managing your temps from start to finish, including payroll and AWR regulations. My client is looking to expand and grow a temporary team, so this is a fantastic time to join for career minded consultants! There is opportunity for progression through to Directorship for the right candidate.

The Directors of this company are all billing consultants, so there is a very flat hierarchy, which requires a self-motivated energetic person to fill this role. You must have a great sense of humour, be sociable, reliable and hard-working, with the emotional intelligence to deal with the problems that come with a people-orientated role. You will be rewarded with a salary of £21-28k dependent upon experience, along with uncapped commission.
