Secretarial Temporary Recruiter - West End - £30k plus monthly uncapped commission

This well established name for delivering high quality service within the Secretarial Support market are looking for an experienced temp controller to take over a desk that is currently billing around £8k. This successful team have a desk of temps and clients to give over the day you join. The temps out are a great platform to be able to grow the desk and revenue.

Working in beautiful new offices in the heart of Soho my client is one of the best and most recognisable names in Secretarial Recruitment and benefit daily from jobs being rang in and new clients recommended to them. They have several teams in this market that work well together to make sure all roles are filled, although you will be building your own desk being a team player is key.

This role would suit someone with 6 - 12 months recruitment experience who would benefit from a great brand name, training and support and working closely as a team.
