Recruitment Consultant - Digital Marketing - Farringdon - £30000-40000 + monthly, quarterly + annual commission

Recruitment Consultant required to work in Farringdon on a dual Digital Marketing desk.

My client is all about Digital! They recruit niche specialists into the Digital market. Due to a high level of roles coming in from existing business they are looking for an experienced Recruitment Consultant in Marketing to take on this desk and make it their own. It would be placing both permanent and freelance candidates. Progression to grow this into a team is available from day one.

The company -

40 people in Central London, also recruit for the USA

One of the top names in Digital recruitment for project management, technical, digital marketing, executive and product management

Strong leadership team that are extremely well networked in the Digital space

Hire thought leaders rather than recruiters

Promote team work within the company

Voted one of UKs "best places to work" by the Great Place To Work Institute

Listed in London Stock Exchange's 1000 Companies to Inspire Britain in 2015, 2016, and 2017

Great supportive work culture and invest in their own people

Reward hard work and initiative

The role

To recruit Digital Marketing specialists into client side/agencies/tech start ups

Hot desk with briefs being called in

Working exclusively on roles and closely with clients to deliver all their digital marketing needs

Currently a Consultant is looking after this and will hand it over as it's become too big for them as they also recruit into another sector

Opportunity to develop this desk into a team

Working on both permanent and freelance roles

You will need -

Knowledge and experience of recruiting Marketing professionals

Be part of a company that has high standards

Be open to development and support to be the best

To be driven by what's right for the client and candidate and therefore the high billings are achieved

Enjoy the Digital market and building long standing relationships

My client are outstanding in the Digital market. GSR2R have placed and had a close working relationship with this brand for over 7 years, our placements from the start are all still with this business as they are serious about employee development and happiness at work. Some of our placements are in leadership roles today and sit on the board. Career promises have always been delivered. This role is for someone who wants more in their next role, a step towards building and running their own team whilst delivering recruitment solutions and the best candidates to their clients is totally on offer with this role.
