

Vacancies

(CW564)

Recruitment Consultant-Sales & Marketing into Fashion - West London - £28000 - 40000

Recruitment Consultant required to work on a permanent, Sales and Marketing desk into the Fashion space.

This Luxury Fashion leading recruiting consultancy are looking for permanent consultants who would be excited to work in the Fashion Industry.

If your client base doesn't interest you and you would like to work with household names in the fashion world this role could be for you.

The Company -

Founded in 1981

Based in West London

28 Consultants

Recruit across teams: Retail temp/perm and Head Office

Head office recruits Sales and Marketing, Production and Buying and Merchandising

Amazing client base including Chanel, Selfridges and The White Company

Their ethos is "quality over quantity"

Passionate about what they do

Provide a fun but hardworking environment for their consultants

Recruit in to a dynamic and fast-paced industry

Have a successful and ambitious team who work to a very high standard

The Role -

To recruit one perm function within the head office team

It's a really hot desk/No new business development

Roles are called in all the time

It's a fast paced desk

All clients and candidates are met face to face

You would be part of a fun, lively successful team

Excellent inspiring Director who is a high performer

You need -

Perm recruitment experience 6 months plus

Want to work in the Fashion Industry

Have an interest in how the clients work

Want to do business face to face

Enjoy socialising and being part of team that celebrates success

This a great company, their client base is outstanding and you would benefit from this from day one.

The team are really fun and love the industry they work in, as its head office staff they recruit, the fees are bigger and the candidates more senior.

This would really suit someone who is looking to make their mark in the recruitment world by working hard and having great support.