Recruitment Consultant - Treasury - City - £28000- 35000

My client is an established recruitment firm operating out of offices in London and New York. As a business they focus on specialist markets across Financial Services, Professional Services and Commerce & Industry. Based in the City, the markets they recruit into include Sales, Treasury, Compliance, Quantitative Finance & Risk, Accounting and Finance and Audit.

Their client list ranges from global Financial Services organisations, investment banks through to FTSE 100 – 250 companies. They have a unrivalled candidate and client database and a great brand/reputation in the market.

As a result of business growth they have an opening for an experienced Recruitment Consultant to join their Treasury team with a focus on recruiting permanent treasury professionals into Corporate clients. You will be dealing with roles from £60k – 130k+ and dealing with FTSE 100 businesses including some very high profile names. This is a warm desk with active clients but it is still a huge, untapped market so you will be expected to develop new business too.

This is a specialised market and very lucrative with the focus being very much on providing a quality service. You will be willing to immerse yourself in this market, build exceptional client and candidate relationships and have an honest and communicative working style.

If you have a minimum of 12 months recruitment experience, are confident dealing with senior level candidates and clients and have a real desire to carve a lucrative desk, then I'd love to hear from you.
