Billing Manager - Accounting and Finance - City - £50000 + commission

Superb opportunity for a Billing Manager to lead and grow a team of Accounting and Finance recruiters who recruit on an interim/contract basis into Financial Services.

This role is to join a leading financial services recruitment business in the London, regional and international markets. My client has been established over 20 years, they have 600 people working in 24 offices across 10 countries and they operate across 8 core markets including Accounting and Finance. The London office is state of the art, extremely impressive and based in Central London. They offer rewarding, long term careers.

Currently they are looking to hire a Billing Manager to head up a Contracts team, recruiting Accounting and Finance candidates on an interim/contract basis into a mix of PSL and new business across Financial Services. The team is currently 5 consultants who are relatively well established, job flow is fantastic and everyone is billing consistently. Clients are a mix of PSL accounts and spot business across the wider Financial Services sector. There is a good team vibe, everyone is competitive, wants to do well but they all support each other.

The ideal candidate will be a Manager who has experience recruiting on an interim/contract basis ideally into Financial Services. You will be confident, able to build relationships with existing client accounts as well as generate new business, a self starter who can motivate and drive a team. This is an exciting opportunity to grow and shape the team and have a significant impact on business growth.

Why join? They will offer a mature working environment, they have a well networked client and candidate base and they have a culture of learning, offering excellent training and development tailored to your individual needs.

They will offer a competitive salary, attractive commission and they have a flexibens fund too. There is dress down every Friday and there are additional incentives. This is a superb business for anyone wanting to develop their career. To find out more call me on 020 3889 1673 or email louise@gsr2r.com
