Senior Consultant - Executive Support - West End - £30000 - 40000 + commission

A great role to take over a hot client base. Due to the nature of how this company do business there will be no cold calling just relationship building within existing clients and turning new queries into clients. It's a dream role for a quality driven temp recruiter.

My client is the best keep secret in senior support recruitment, they may not be a name you recognise however they are very well known to their clients and candidates at placing EA's and PA's - the senior side of support.

The company -

Founded in 2009

12 people and growing with the best consultants

Recruit for world leading businesses at the senior end

Quality driven

Supportive

Based in beautiful offices in the West End

Use a human approach towards clients and candidates

They offer a very personal service tailored specifically to the needs of their candidates and clients

Like their consultants to have their own unique style and service

The Role -

To recruit temporary and interim senior level support candidates

To grow the clients they already have

Turning call in enquiries into long lasting clients

Work closely with one other temp controller

To know what good business is and be picky with who you work with

Candidate generation

This role can be a Consultant/Senior Consultant or Team Leader role

Be part of a successful team/be open to give/share ideas to consistently improve

You will need

1 year's plus experience within support recruitment

Some of your experience to have been placing temps
