Senior Recruitment Consultant - Finance into Media - West End - £26000 - £32000 + commission

Do you want to go to work in dress down every day?

Do you want to work for the leading brand name in media/creative recruitment?

Do you want to work on a hot desk recruiting for exciting brands in TV, Media, Music, Entertainment world?

My client is a leading media/creative recruitment business established for 30+ years' and based in Central London. They are looking to hire an experienced, senior Recruitment Consultant to recruit permanent transactional and PQ Accounting and Finance candidates into the Media, Music, Entertainment space.

They were the first company to recruit into this market and today they have an outstanding client list. You will be joining an experienced and successful Accounting and Finance division and working in the permanent team. The team are consultative and creative; they don't recruit to KPI's and are self motivated and self – managing. They can offer a very warm desk but this is a 360 recruitment role and you will be expected to build and grow client relationships.

The working environment reflects the markets they partner: growing, energised, supportive and fun. With this in mind they believe in balance and encourage a fun time at work. They have a dress down policy every day, amazing trendy offices with a break out area and you could take time out over a game of pool.

They do however also take your career seriously and have an in-house induction and training system to give you all the tools and collateral you need to get started in the job and again over your long term career. They look for recruiters with individuality and talent to succeed in an informal but professional and competent culture. You will need to have a minimum of 18 months experience recruiting Accounting and Finance professionals and a keen interest in the Media industry.

In return they offer a competitive basic salary, excellent commission and bonus plus a range of discretionary benefits.
