Interim Recruitment Consultant - HR - City - £30000 - 40000 + commission

Interim HR Recruitment Consultant required to take over a hot desk of clients. You will be recruiting HR interim professionals within the Tech, Retail and Media space. The consultant currently on the desk has been promoted therefore it's an established live desk for you to take over.

My client is a HR specialist and an outstanding brand for quality in the recruitment market place. Day one, you would benefit from being gifted the clients and relationships this desk has as well as a database with live candidates on. You would work closely with the perm team to utilise all clients on the interim side. Joining a successful team, the culture is one of sharing and working together. They promote within and offer career plans tailored around what you would like for your career and your strengths. They provide training both in-house and externally. If you work in HR or you are thinking about working in this market I would like to talk to you.

My client are based in Central London, knowing how difficult it is to leave a temp desk they guarantee commission and make sure you earn at least 35% of what you bill as an OTE in your first year.

I have placed over 25 people with this client and the feedback is always glowing, what everyone mentions is how supportive they are whilst being give freedom to be successful.
